

Taos Pueblo, New Mexico

The Southwest Border Area

Climates of the U.S. and Canada

The Southwest Border Area

- A region of three dominating cultures: Native American, Spanish American, and European American.
- A native population that is ancient and numerous, but not highly assimilated.
- An Hispanic population that dates back more than 400 years and is experiencing rapid growth.
- A distinctive regional architecture and cuisine.
- A regional economy that is highly integrated with northern Mexico.
- Fairly recent and numerically significant immigration of European Americans.
- A politically tense border.

The Four Corners

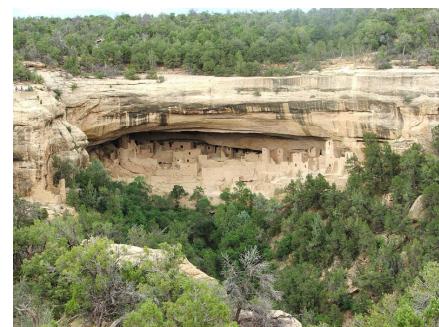

Road to Monument Valley, Arizona

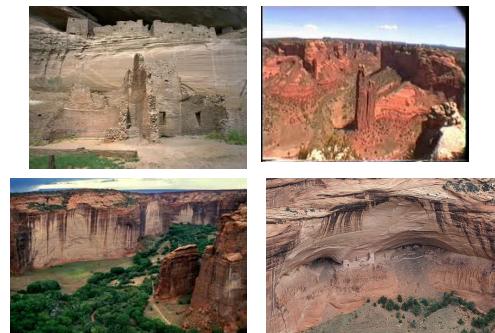

Monument Valley, Arizona

Mesa Verde National Park Located in southwest Colorado

Mesa Verde N.P.Canyon de Chelly

Taos Pueblo: Built ca. 1,000 AD; National Historic Landmark, 1960; World Heritage Site, 1992; about 150 residents in 2006

The Acoma Pueblo
Also called "Sky City" because it sits atop a mesa

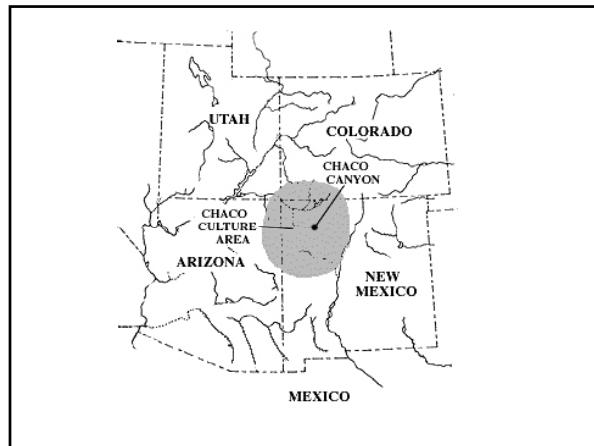

A mesa view near Acoma Pueblo
(the tabletop remains of an eroded plateau)

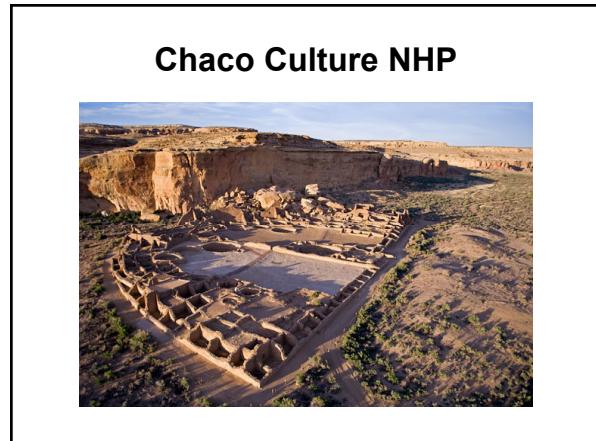

Acoma Pueblo: settled ca. 1,100 AD

Chaco Culture
National Historic Park

New Mexico

Chaco Culture NHP

Artist's interpretation of Chaco Settlement

"Southwestern Style" (adobe) architecture

Santa Fe, NM

Traditional adobe building

Adobe wall coating renewal

Adobe house under construction

Fake adobe
New Mexico Museum of Art, Santa Fe

Fake adobe, Downtown Santa Fe

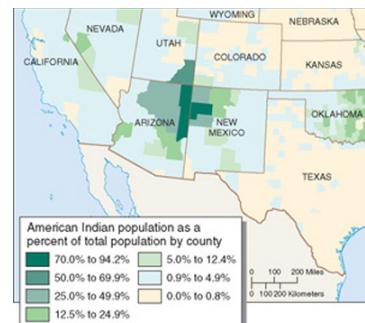

Palace of the Governors, Santa Fe

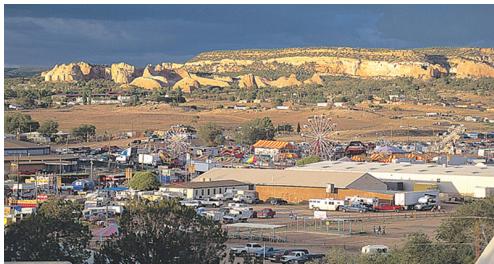

Native American reservations in the Southwest

Native American Population in the Southwest

Tuba City, Navajo Reservation

TERRITORIAL GROWTH OF THE UNITED STATES

Cession vs. Annexation

- In the case of cession, land is given or sold through treaty.
- In the case of annexation, land is seized and held by a foreign State and made legitimate by the approval or recognition of an appropriate agency of that State and/or a recognized foreign body.

Annexation of Texas, 1845

- Annexation of the Republic of Texas as the 28th State.
- Led to war with Mexico (1846-1848) and further U.S. expansion.
- The culmination of years of negotiation between the U.S. and Texans, most of whom were Americans by birth.

Mexican Cession, 1848

- Large area formally transferred from Mexico to the U.S. by the Treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, following the Mexican War.
- Technically purchased for $15 million (more than $300 million in today's money), but written off to settle pre-existing Mexican debts.

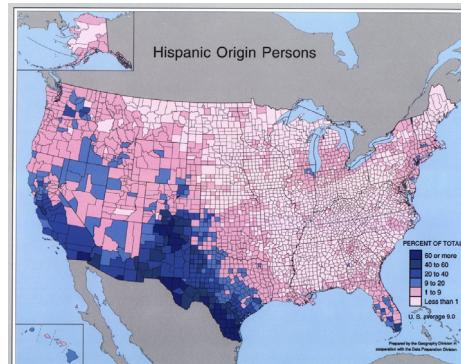

Gadsden Purchase, 1853

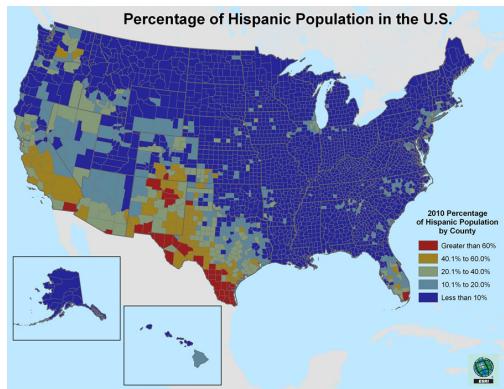

- An area of southern Arizona and southwest New Mexico purchased from Mexico in 1853 for $10 million.
- The brainchild of James Gadsden, a railroad magnate from South Carolina who dreamed of a southern transcontinental railroad to make the West dependent on the South.
- Appointed Minister to Mexico by Pres. Pierce.

Santa Fe, New Mexico

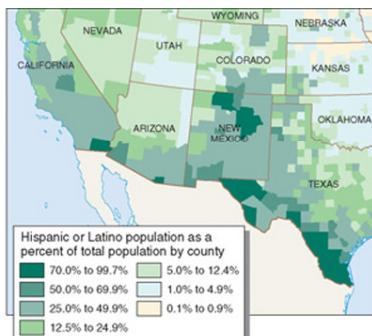

At least the third oldest city in the U.S. founded by Europeans (#1 is St. Augustine, FL – 1565), and the oldest continuous capital.

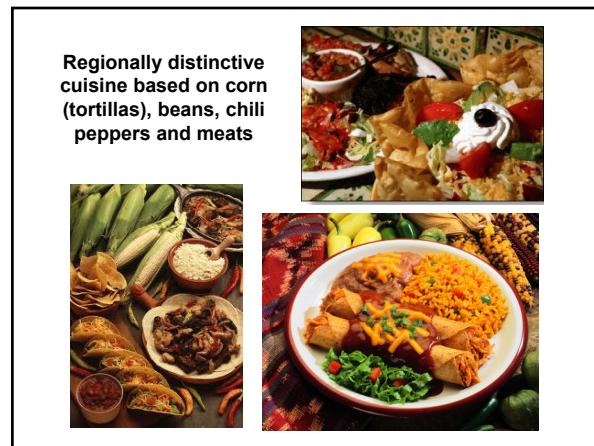

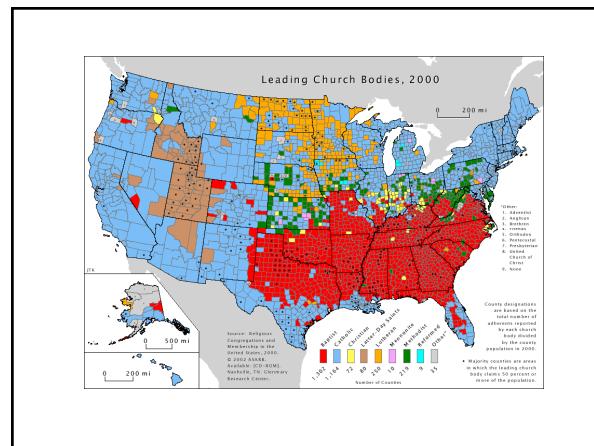

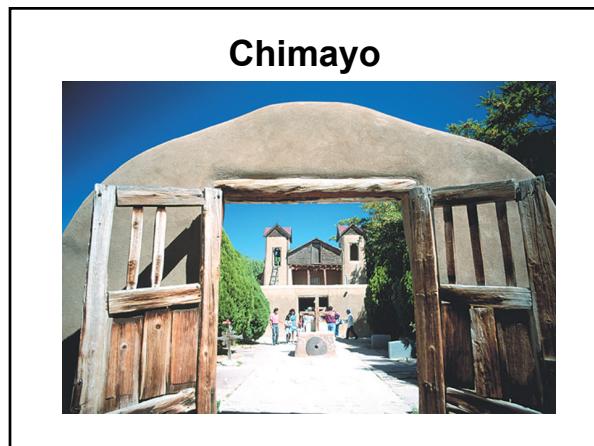

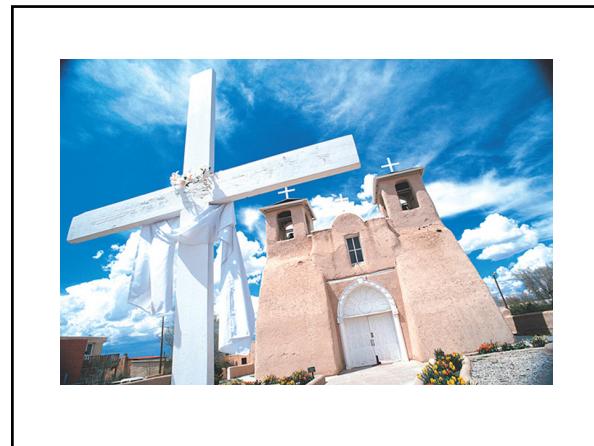

Percentage of Hispanic Population in the U.S.

Hispanic Population in the Southwest

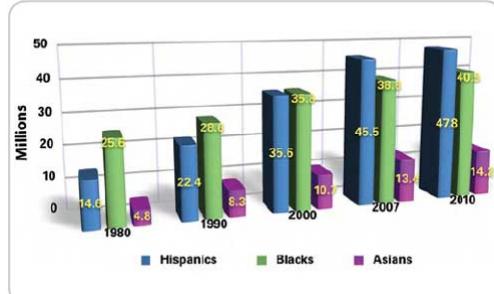

Which would you choose?

HISPANICS TAKE THE LEAD

Outdoor mural, Los Angeles

Mural honoring Mexican-American veterans

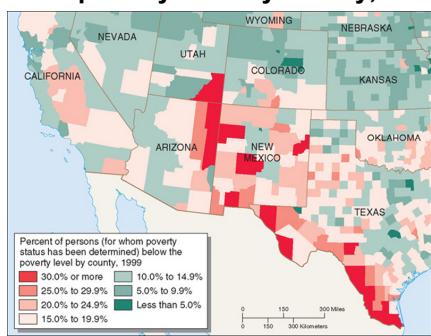

Mural in East Los Angeles

El Barrio, East Los Angeles

Percent of population below poverty level by county, 1999

Maquiladora

- Originally, a manufacturing plant in northern Mexico, near the U.S. border, specializing in the production of goods destined for sale in the U.S.
- Takes advantage of cheaper Mexican labor; favorable labor, tax and environmental laws; and proximity to U.S. transportation infrastructure.
- Sometimes involve sending raw materials or components from the U.S. to Mexico for processing.
- Now, more generally, a manufacturing facility located outside a client state, but proximate to its borders, to take advantage of factors that minimize the cost of the finished product.

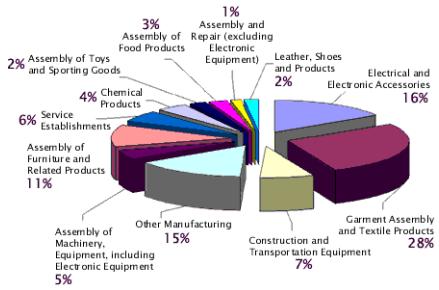

Maquiladora concentrations

The North American Free Trade Area (NAFTA) consists of Canada, The United States and Mexico.

A free trade area is a trade bloc whose member countries have agreed to eliminate tariffs, quotas and preferences on goods and services traded between them.

Maquiladora Labor Force

Inside Maquiladoras

El Paso–Juarez Border Crossing

A portion of the wall separating The United States and Mexico

